Eureka TV – the show that brings a new, fun approach to science – returns to CBBC this autumn.

Every week Kate Heavenor and Mohini Sule bring viewers those “Eureka!” moments – from the thrill and excitement of discovery and invention to the principles of science behind everyday occurrences. They demonstrate the kind of science that can be done at home – from DIY optical illusions to neat tricks to play on friends – and explore the “magic” of nature.

Each week there’s also a look at the shape of things to come with news of the latest in gadgets, gizmos and technical innovation.

Fairly Odd Parents

The Fairly Odd Parents are back for a new series. Timmy is ten years old and has a problem – his bossy babysitter, Vicky. Thankfully, Timmy has two magical fairy godparents to look out for him and provide the solutions to all his problems.

But Timmy’s troubles continue as Cosmo and Wanda enjoy themselves a little too much and decide to hang around forever, to watch over him and make magic and mayhem!

Fungus The Bogeyman

Raymond Briggs’ classic tale of all things slimy comes to life on CBBC ONE this autumn, starring Martin Clunes, Fay Ripley, Clare Thomas and Charlie Hicks.

Deep under the ground in the dark tunnels of Bogeydom live the Bogeys, a vile collection of slimy, smelly creatures who revel in everything revolting. Fungus is a Bogeyman who traipses through the tunnels of Bogeydom each day and makes his way up to the surface to go about his Bogey business, making mischief in the human world.

One day his work takes him into the home of the White family, where he creates his deliciously disgusting brand of havoc.

The screenwriter is Mark Haddon, creator of Bafta award winning series Microsoap and author of the current best-seller The Curious Incident Of The Dog In The Night. The director is Stuart Orme, whose credits include The Last World and William And Mary.

Fungus The Bogeyman will also be shown fully on The CBBC Channel between Christmas and New Year. To celebrate his arrival on the channel, CBBC programmes and the website will be having lots of Fungus fun from Monday 29 December to Sunday 4 January.

Fungus The Bogeyman is an Indie Kids/Galafilm production for the BBC.
