

Radio 2 Live In Liverpool Masterclasses

From Monday 4 to Saturday 9 October, BBC Radio 2 invites musicians from some of the finest ensembles in the UK to inspire local music students in a series of specially organised Masterclasses.

A range of instrumentalists, and one of the finest international jazz singers, Tina May, will coach students in jazz and Big Band playing.

On Saturday 9 October, the week culminates with a lunchtime performance of the Radio 2 Educational Prom, presented by Paul Eshelby, Course Director and Conductor.

Classes are free and open to students of all ages from schools and colleges whose musical standard is grade five and above. For further information on this chance to be coached by the country's top instrumentalists and singers call Louise Hough at the Liverpool Music Support Service on 0151 233 8188.
